BELLEVUE CARNIVAL A HUGE SUCCESS

The Bellevue ice carnival concluded a two-day season of festivities with a real bang last night. In every way the affair was a success, even in spite of the quiet times prevailing. The band was in attendance each night. An exhibition game of hockey opened the carnival on Tuesday night. Ice was exceptionally good. The various stalls were well patronized.

The draw for the big $175 radio set proved a big attraction last night, when Mrs. L. P. Robert, of Blairmore, was declared the lucky winner.

The carnival was staged under auspices of the Bellevue Hockey Club, who feel grateful to the hundreds who attended and assisted in making the affair a success.

MINERS AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS APPEAL FOR RELIEF

At a largely-attended meeting of Blairmore Local Miners' Union on Sunday last, it was decided to appeal to the federal and provincial departments of labor, in the hope that some work may be undertaken in this district that would relieve the distress prevailing on account of slackness of work at the mines. Messages were forthwith forwarded to Hon. Dr. J. H. King, federal minister, and to Hon. Alex. Ross, the provincial minister of public works, also a copy of same to Mr. P. M. Christophers, M. L.A. for this riding.

These appeals have also been endorsed by other organizations and citizens.

On Tuesday replies were received from Hon. Dr. King and Hon. Alex. Ross, the former to effect that no action could be taken by the federal authorities until action was first instituted by the provincial authorities. Hon. Alex. Ross advised that the chief of the mines department, Mr. John T. Sterling, was being dispatched to the district, accompanied by Mr. R. J. Dinning, and it looks as though some action will be taken that will relieve somewhat the local situation.

The town council hopes to receive co-operation from the provincial department of labor in the matter of grading a section of the main highway in east Blairmore, which will afford considerable relief work.

Messrs. Sterling and Dinning arrived in town this morning.

BLAIRMORE OFF TO EDMONTON TONIGHT

Arrangements have been made, whereby Blairmore enters the provincial Allan cup championship play-off at Edmonton. The team leaves to compete later and will meet the Edmonton, superior in a two-game series, Saturday and Monday nights.

Blairmore's lineup will be: Manopp, Wheatley, Anderson, Hansen, Pruden, Veprava McKay, Rhynas and Ennis.

ROBINSON-DICKEN

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the United church, Blairmore, on Monday evening, February 22nd, 1926, when Miss Winnifred Alice Dicken only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dicken, was united in marriage to Mr. John Wilson Robinson, of Stettler, Alberta. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. T. Young, the bride party standing under an archway of white and green.

The bride was charmingly attired in a white crepe de chene gown trimmed with silver lace and orange blossom cluster and wore the wedding veil. She carried a bouquet of tea roses and ferns. Miss Robinson, of Calgary, sister of the bridegroom, acted as bridesmaid. Her gown was springtime crepe de chene trimmed with brilliants. She wore a hat to match, and her bouquet was of white carnations and ferns.

Mr. John Dicken attended the bridegroom.

The church was well filled with interested friends of the young couple and during the signing of the register, the choir of the church sang "O Perfect Love," after which the bridesmaid also sang "O Promise Me."

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on State Street immediately after the ceremony, after which the guests sat down to a tempting dinner. A beautiful bride's cake centered the table, which was decorated with carnations and smilax. The evening was spent in speech making and music.

The happy couple left on the night train to spend a short honeymoon in Calgary and Edmonton. They were accompanied to the train by their many friends and the usual tin canes, etc.

They will take up their residence in Stettler in the near future, where the bridegroom has a position with the C.P.R.

All join in wishing them much happiness in their wedded life.

The Town of Blairmore now has a Farmer government.

BELOVED SCOBBY LADY IS LAID TO REST

To live on earth with joy and gladness, health and happiness, is indeed a great privilege, but when the flesh falls and the three score and ten years are spent, it is most wonderful and beautiful to lay aside all mental weight, pain and sorrow and go home to the Father, where all tears shall be wiped away and there shall be no more weeping.

Such is the glorious translation which has come to Mrs. Rosanna Fulton, who was born May 25th, 1853, in Nova Scotia, and died at Scooby, Montana, on February the 8th, 1926, aged 72 years, 8 months and 13 days. In December, 1882, she was married to Mr. Woodbury Fulton, who preceded her by his reward in the year 1900.

To this union were born four children: Mrs. J. E. Lack, of Nova Scotia; Mrs. W. R. Fulton, of Edmonton, Alberta; Mrs. W. Oliver, of Blairmore, Alberta, and Mr. George Fulton, of Scooby. These four children, a number of grandchildren, together with a host of friends and relatives remain to mourn her loss.

Mrs. Fulton spent her early life in Nova Scotia, where for ten years she taught school. No one will ever know how far her faithful, patient influence has gone in the lives of the many youths whom she instructed many years ago. In 1910 she, with her children, came to Alberta, where she lived during many hard years until a couple of years ago she and her youngest son, George, came to this city to live, where they both have won the hearts of many loyal friends.

In early life she united with the church and remained a loyal and faithful member to the end. Upon coming to our city she placed her lot with this church.

Her life has been that of a faithful, endearing, devoted teacher, wife and mother. Her sweet, faithful, Christian life was always a joy to all. So many in our town here have said: "We always love to go to see Mother Fulton, because she is so cheerful, kind and interesting." Her departure is our loss, but in Heaven today she is with her Saviour and with those she has loved and lost awhile. She has finished the course, fought the good fight and won her crown. Her life was so lived that we can say triumphantly: So when life's journey ends, Soul and body part like friends—No quarrels, no murmurs, no delay; A kiss, a sigh and go away.

—Daniel's County Dealer, Scooby, Montana.

EDWARDS-DERRETT

The marriage of Mrs. Annie Helens Derrett and Mr. Frank Thomas Edwards was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride at Pincher Creek at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, February 12. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Gorden, B.A., pastor of the United church, and was witnessed only by the bride's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Marcellus. Following the wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards left for points west, spending Sunday at Nelson, B. C. The bridegroom is manager of the P. Burns company creamery at Pincher Creek and the bride is editor and publisher of the Pincher Creek Echo. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards have a host of friends in Pincher Creek. They will be at home to their many friends after February 20th.

The business of the Tea Kettle Inn is expanding so rapidly that Mr. Brewer finds it necessary to build an addition, which will extend the tea room and allow of more kitchen space. A basement is being excavated, over which the new annex will be built. A large soda fountain is shortly to be installed.

JAMES H. FARMER IS NEW BLAIRMORE MAYOR

Only one name was submitted for nomination on Monday and Mr. James H. Farmer was declared elected by acclamation to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mayor McLeod.

Mr. Farmer is a real pioneer of The Pass and probably one of the best known citizens of this corner of the province.

In the early days, prior to and following the Frank slide, Mr. Farmer filled the position of overseer and secretary of the village of Frank and was for years connected with the school board of that town. He was also manager of the Frank branch of the Union Bank of Canada up to the time when that branch was moved to Blairmore, about 1910.

We feel that in Mr. Farmer we have as our municipal head a man with all the qualifications necessary for that office.

Mr. Farmer will don the robes of office for the next regular meeting of the council on the night of Monday, March 15th.

Mr. C. V. Mitchell, together with his son Charlie and family, who have ranches in Pleasant Valley, south of Beaver Mines, for many years, have sold all their effects and leave shortly to make their home in Vancouver. Mrs. Ralph Vroom has leased the ranch.

COLEMAN LOSSES TO BLAIRMORE BY DEFAULT

Coleman's Allan cup team refused at the last minute on Friday night last to meet Blairmore on the local ice in the second of the home-and-home two-game series to decide which team should enter the provincial championship, and forfeited to Blairmore.

General regret is expressed, because everyone looked forward to a good game, since the Coleman Juniors put up such an excellent showing on Wednesday night at Coleman. A good game was also assured for people had come in from as far as Pincher Creek, knowing nothing of the game being called off till they reached Blairmore less than an hour before the time set for the game.

L. DUTIL TO OPEN HARDWARE STORE AT KIMBERLEY

Mr. L. Dutil, proprietor of the Coleman Hardware Company, the Coleman Hardware Company, spent several days at Kimberley, B. C., last week, looking over the prospects for establishing a branch business there. He returned to town on Friday night, and we understand has decided to locate a branch at Kimberley, putting in a general stock of hardware, furniture, etc. He has already leased a large building there and will immediately install stock.

A WORLD WIDE WHEAT POOL MAY BE ESTABLISHED

St. Paul, Minn.—The three-day international wheat pool conference of delegates from Canadian, Australian and American pools ended with the appointment of a committee to maintain the relations established at the first conference and to arrange for another conference, probably next year.

It is at this next conference that a serious effort is to be made to establish, if not a world pool, at least some working arrangement between the pools of some of the more important wheat exporting countries. This could not be consummated at the recent conference because the Australian pools are not yet well enough organized and because there are too many differences of opinion between the eight United States pools represented at the convention.

The committee to make arrangements for the next conference met at the close of the convention and appointed Colin H. Barnell, president of the Manitoba Wheat Pool, as chairman, and George W. Robertson, secretary of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, as secretary, the appointment being accompanied by the statement that the first conference was the outcome of Mr. Robertson's proposal.

Had No Intention Of Offending Canada

English Magistrate Did Not Regard Dominion As Penal Colony

Birmingham, Eng.—Magistrate S. E. Short, in an interview with the Canadian Press, expressed surprise that against his judgment recently in trying a prisoner a choice between being sent to jail or going to Canada, Magistrate Short told the Canadian Press he thought the advice given to the prisoner to go to Canada was the best for the man and good for Canada, as the person in question was the type of man who would make a valuable citizen. The man had never been convicted, the magistrate continued, was well built and sturdy and was of the kind that would be capable of righting himself in a country where a healthy outdoor life and hard work were essential to success.

He said he did not the slightest idea of offending Canadian susceptibilities when he suggested that the accused should choose to go to Canada and make a fresh start.

A protest against Magistrate Short's action was voiced in the House of Commons at Ottawa by J. S. Woods, Labor North Centre, Winnipeg.

No Liquor Buying Combine

Plan of Pacific Provinces Forming a Co-operative Organization Not Feasible

Victoria.—There is no possibility of British Columbia and the prairie provinces forming a co-operative organization for the purchase of liquor as proposed in Canada recently. At the conference there of western liquor commissioners, Hugh Davidson, British Columbia representative, who returned this week, declared:

"It is absolutely impracticable in view of the utterly different conditions prevailing in the various provinces," he said. "We never seriously considered it, if it was mentioned at all, and certainly there never was any intention of attempting to put it into effect."

Recruiting in Britain Shows Slight Decrease

Emigration Is Competitor According to War Office Report

London.—That emigration is seriously competing with recruiting is emphasized in the annual report of the war office. Recruiting, however, showed a marked improvement last year. London and Northern Ireland maintaining their reputation for providing larger contributions to the army than any other commands. Emigration is a serious matter in Scotland and the eastern counties, the report says, although its effect on recruiting is felt generally throughout the country.

Encountered Severe Storm

New York.—The British freighter Erington Court, after battling three violent storms in North Atlantic and losing her first officer, arrived here from Swansea with a cargo of anthracite coal. The voyage took 31 days.

Alberta Legislature

Second Largest Surplus in History of Province Is Shown

Edmonton.—The most important news of the week in the Alberta Legislature was the announcement by Premier J. E. Brownlee that for the year 1925 the public accounts of the province showed a balance of revenue over expenditure of $188,019, the second largest surplus in the history of the province. As in last year's budget a deficit had been estimated, the announcement was received with much satisfaction.

The telephone deficit was only $3,000, as compared with $110,000 in 1924, and generally other departments were in a very satisfactory condition. The value of the agricultural products of the province was placed at $254,000,000, while production of coal, oil, and other minerals, was also largely increased in 1925.

The administration of the Liquor Act, with one commissioner, and also the administration of the Letbridge Northern Irrigation system, had been very successful; many new settlers having been placed on the latter project.

$112,000 received from the Dominion Government as Alberta's share of the surplus of the 1919 wheat board would be devoted to the promotion of co-operative enterprise.

Prosperity had returned to Alberta, and he looked for a big influx of immigration into the province. He would like to see the word immigration dropped from the vocabulary, and "colonization" substituted. They wanted some control over immigration and colonization, so that the people who came in would be the class who would make good, and be prosperous and satisfied.

Concluding he urged co-operation between cities and country in the legislature by cutting out the party spirit. Methods of government were changing, and he believed the party system was being superseded by something better.

Hon. C. R. Mitchell, leader of the Liberal opposition, did not amplify the protest made by a supporter on the opening day of the session that the house should not have convened with six seats vacant. His only mention of the matter was that the vacancies made it more imperative than ever for the opposition to scrutinize incoming legislation closely.

He charged the government with having neglected to carry out the recommendations of the commission appointed to seek a solution of the southeastern dry area of the province. Group government was being featured by the U.E.A., but he had yet to hear anything said in its favor in the house by the premier or ex-premier. He objected to the deposition of Premier Greenfield, by a party caucus. The people should have been consulted.

New British Cruiser Launched

Details of Construction Were Kept a Close Secret

Portsmouth, Eng.—Two unusual incidents occurred here at the launching of the cruiser Suffolk.

Lady Balfour, who formed the christening ceremony, was, at the last moment, broken the champagne bottle across the bow before she was successful and when the control rope was severed the vessel refused to budge. The suspense was continued until ended with a burst of applause a minute or so later when the huge bulk was seen to start its glide seaward.

It was the first launching of a warship at Portsmouth in five years. Details of the construction of the Suffolk have been kept a close secret. All that is known is she is 10,000 tons, has 18 guns, is turbine driven and has a speed that will probably exceed 20 knots. The cost was $2,500,000.

Russian Torturers On Trial

Seventeen Charged With Death of Eleven Persons During Famine

Sintropol, Russia.—Two brothers named Muslumoff, and fifteen others, were placed on trial here on charges of torturing eleven persons to death and seriously maltreating forty-nine others. The crimes occurred during the famine period, but were only recently revealed.

More than one hundred witnesses have been called. One of the Muslumoff brothers was chairman of the local committee for appropriation of sandhills, and the other was chairman of the Soviet of the village.

Escaped Injury In Plane Crash

Melbourne, Australia.—The Governor-General of Australia, Lord Stonehaven, had a narrow escape from death while flying from the "Wing" from a naval base. The aeroplane crashed into a tree, but the governor-general was not injured.

Canada's Stand On Peace Pact Important

If Not Bound, Dominion Could Remain Neutral In Event Of War

London.—Commenting on the report which has been officially denied that the Canadian government has decided to introduce a resolution in the House of Commons at Ottawa declaring that Canada dissociates herself from the obligations imposed by the Locarno pact, The Daily Herald says that this decision, if true, marks a very definite state in the evolution of the British empire.

It is already recognized that each self-governing part of the empire may make treaties on its own account but the Locarno treaties are not in the same category as those which have been so far separately negotiated, the paper says.

"They are treaties involving the obligation to go to war under certain circumstances," it declares. "If Britain is thus bound and Canada not, we are faced by the remarkable possibility that one part of the empire may be at war and the other not—that Canada may be neutral in a war in which Britain is a belligerent."

SAY EASTBOUND GRAIN RATES NOT COMPLIED WITH

Ottawa.—When the board of railway commissioners were urged to deal promptly with eastbound grain and flour rates to Port William, Commissioner Boyce declared that it was a claim for preferential treatment outside the general rate investigation.

The incident occurred when W. H. McEwen, counsel for Saskatchewan, declared that the order of the board issued last June fixing the eastbound grain and flour rates, was not being complied with by the railways. It was an application for Canadian Pacific Railway main line rates to be applied generally on western lines.

If the railways were put living up to the order issued by the board, the remedy was under the Railway Act, declared Commissioner Boyce. A new order would not make any difference, said the commissioner.

Mr. McEwen claimed that the Crow's Nest situation should be cleared up, the province of Saskatchewan had been unanimously involved in the thing since 1922. Commissioner Vien sustained the claim of the Saskatchewan counsel that he had the right to make an application to insure that the order was complied with.

Wanted American Ship

New York.—An SOS call which specified "only American-bound ships need apply," is reported here. The message was sent by the British steamer Olympic, which had gone to the rescue of three men in a lifeless motor boat in West Indian waters. The men refused to be rescued by a ship bound for London and drifted for another ten hours until a United States vessel happened along.

Mexico Excludes Priests

Vera Cruz.—Governor Jara has ordered all the municipalities in the state of Vera Cruz to act upon the requirements of the Mexican constitution and exclude "alien priests and close all Roman Catholic schools."

Pretty Lady At Wheel of Liner.

FUEL SHORTAGE IN ONTARIO IS AIRED IN HOUSE

Ottawa.—Further inquiries in regard to what action the government proposed to take in order to insure fuel supply for Ontario during the remainder of the winter were made in the house. J. E. Armstrong, Conservative, East Lambton, read a telegram from a dealer who complained that he was unable to obtain Alberta coal, and that there was danger of a serious shortage involving schools and public buildings in Western Ontario. Mr. Armstrong said he was at a loss to understand why the government did not act. It was no use telling the members that they had to look to the Ontario fuel controllers. There were protests from Liberal members who objected to any discussion of the matter on the order of the day, and Mr. Armstrong said that, if necessary, he would move the adjournment of the house to discuss it.

Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, replied that action would be taken by the federal authorities on the request of the fuel controller of Ontario. "So far as I am aware we have received no communication from the Ontario fuel controllers," he added.

Many Killed In Snowslide

Buildings in Utah Mining District Crushed Under Debris

Salt Lake City, Utah.—Several buildings, including the Methodist Church, were buried under a snowslide in Gap Gulch in the Highland Boy mining district near Bingham, 18 miles southwest of here, Feb. 17.

Estimates of those entombed in the avalanche of snow, rock and brush that slid down the mountain side range between 50 and 100.

Little hope is held out for their rescue alive.

Fire burning in the buildings which were crushed under hundreds of tons of debris imperilled the safety of those who may have escaped instant death when their homes were crushed.

Paying War Debt

Britain Is Pay $160,000,000 of U. S. War Debt This Year

London.—Right Hon. Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, told a questioner in the House of Commons that Great Britain's net payments to the United States on account of her war debts would amount to $23,682,000 (about $160,000,000) principal and interest during 1925, assuming sterling at par value.

Against this, he said, Great Britain would receive approximately $14,000,000 (about $85,000,000) from German reparations and payments on the allied war debts already funded. Mr. Churchill added that negotiations were proceeding for settlement of the remaining allied war debts.

May Get New Post

Ottawa.—Appointment of Hon. C. P. Graham, minister of railways, as chairman of the board of directors of the Canadian National Railways, is said to be under discussion. At present Sir Henry Thornton is both president and chairman. Should Mr. Graham be appointed, Sir Henry would retain the presidency.

School Trustees' Convention

Large Attendance of Saskatchewan Trustees at Regina Gathering

Regina.—Education in all various places as taught in the schools of the province was criticized, commended and debated by the 800 delegates attending the annual convention of the Saskatchewan School Trustees' Association.

Stressing the need for an examination of Saskatchewan schools, Chas. E. Little, Ogema, president of the association, declared that agricultural instruction was not sufficiently emphasized in the present curriculum. Mr. Little was severe on the college of agriculture which, he declared, had failed to meet the needs of agriculture.

The high school conference was not needed, as saying that the cost of secondary education should be borne by the people as a whole and that the principle of charging fees in schools doing high school work was detrimental to the best interests of education and a "retrograde movement."

Unanimous assent was also given to a resolution urging that all construction necessary to the development of the Hudson's Bay route should be proceeded with immediately. This resolution is to be sent to Sir Henry Thornton, to the federal minister of railways and Right Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, "member for Prince Albert." This gives the trustees' association the distinction of being the first organization to address Premier King by his most recent distinction.

World Marketing Plan

Representatives of Co-operative Wheat Pools Discuss Details at St. Paul

St. Paul, Minn.—Details of the plan for an international wheat pool organization were under discussion here at the conference of representatives of many co-operative wheat pools.

The Russian wheat marketing situation and the manner in which it might be included in a world-wide marketing plan was outlined to the conference by D. P. Pavlov, official trade delegate of the Soviet Union.

Conference sessions have been open only to official delegates and only the general plans of the conference are being made public.

WOULD APPOINT COUNSEL FOR CUSTOMS PROBE

Ottawa.—R. L. Calder, K.C., Montreal, will probably be appointed-counsel for the whole committee conducting the customs' administration inquiry.

Decision to engage one counsel for the committee as a whole has, it is understood, been decided upon by members of the committee.

Priest-made shirts from the United States are being sold extensively in Canada, having been smuggled in with out payment of duty. It was suggested at a sitting of the customs probe by R. P. Sparke, president of the Commercial Protective Association, that Mr. Sparke produced in evidence a shirt which he had bought in Ottawa, and which he believed to have been made in a penitentiary in the United States. He also showed a list of American firms dealing in priest-made apparel at prices which went as low as 65 cents a dozen shirts. There was a growing prejudice in the United States against these articles made by prisoners and the who deal in them were turning to Canada for an extended market, said Mr. Sparke. These goods could not enter Canada legally.

Esthonians Are Sentenced

Charged By Bolsheviks With Plotting Against Soviet State

Riga, Latvia.—Fifteen Esthonians charged with espionage have been sentenced to death at Leningrad, Russia. Their trial had been going on for two weeks.

The trial of 45 Esthonians began February 2 before the provincial court in Leningrad. They were charged with plotting against the Soviet state and planning to overthrow the new municipal plan, bridges, airfields and other structures.

Australia Willing To Help

London.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent, cabling from Melbourne, says it is rumored there that if the overseas settlement committees will give a lead in the matter of the reduction of migrants fares the Commonwealth will undoubtedly respond.

Crude platinum is usually found in the form of rounded or flattened grains.

SHARP PASSAGES ARE HEARD IN DEBATE IN HOUSE

Ottawa.—Another clash between Hon. Lucien Cannon, solicitor-general, and C. H. Cahan, Conservative, St. Lawrence-St. George, occurred in the debate on the address in the House of Commons. Mr. Cahan referred to Mr. Cannon's criticism of his lengthy speech and used the word "obstructor."

The solicitor-general rose to a point of privilege and quoted Cannon at length to prove that Mr. Cahan had himself said that he would himself "obstruct."

Speaker Lemieux intervened. He had already ruled, he said, that no member was entitled to accuse another of obstructing the speaker. Any member had a right to speak as long as he chose on any question before the house under the normal rules.

Mr. Cahan defied any government member to show that the Conservatives were delaying public business. There was no public business before the house, and what the Conservatives were endeavoring to prevent right now was the passage of the government's own motion, which would automatically close the House of Commons before any public business had been done.

Continuing, Mr. Cahan said that he did not think that the government had one single public measure which it was prepared to place before the house. If it had such a measure, and was willing to proceed with it, he was prepared to ask his leader to recede any resolutions passed at the instance of the government, which stood in the way of dealing with such public business.

Red Delegates Must Explain Expenditures

Spent Millions of Gold Rubles and Accomplished Little Say Soviets

Latvia.—A group of delegates, representing many countries, have arrived at Moscow to attend the annual communist convention.

Parades, receptions and "at the theatres" in honor of the delegates are noticeably absent this year. The attitude of the delegates is subdued, according to the Moscow papers.

Under pressure of M. Dzierzinski, head of the all-powerful state police—the Cheka—the Communist party has decided to call the delegates to an accounting of the sessions of the conference will be devoted to reports on how the appropriations have been spent during the last year. The Soviet papers are unable to understand why the millions of gold rubles failed to produce a noticeable revolutionary activities abroad.

Already the Scandinavian communist party has been notified that they no longer will receive Moscow's financial assistance. Subsidies in all the other European communist parties face a radical reduction.

Export Of Russian Grain Is Increasing

Expected It Will Reach Pre-War Level In Two Years

St. Paul, Minn.—Russian grain export is expected to regain its pre-war level of a half-billion bushels annually in 1925, the international wheat pool conference, in session here, was told.

D. P. Pavlov, trade delegate of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, issued this statement in an address outlining the grain export history of Russia. He placed 1925 grain exports of Russia at 200,000,000 bushels.

Russian co-operative organizations, he said, maintain a dominating position in comparison to the government and private exporters of the Soviet Union.

Do Not Want Eight-Hour Day

London.—The Civil Servants' Organizations threaten to give the government a troublesome time if the proposition that hereafter the new members of the civil service shall work eight hours a day instead of seven hours, as at present is adopted. This is one of the tentative methods of government economy now under consideration by the cabinet.

Calgary Bishop Resigns

Calgary.—Right Rev. W. Cyrilus Flahman, D.D., bishop of the Anglican Diocese of Calgary, has resigned, along with Archbishop Hayes. Bishop Flahman gives as his reason for his resignation his action on November 11 last. He went to Winnipeg in 1868.

THE NEW DEPUTY MINISTER

The appointment of Mr. W. D. Spence as deputy minister of Alberta, gives great satisfaction and is a deserved promotion, for he has been acting deputy minister during the illness of Mr. J. H. Lamb, who was compelled to give up his work owing to continued ill-health.

Mr. Spence did not become even acting deputy minister without experience, for he was tax commissioner from 1921, and previously had municipal experience as auditor of St. Mary's, Ontario, and city clerk of Calgary, Alberta, in 1910 and 1911. He then took up the work of accounting and auditing.

Mr. Spence is a native of Blenheim, Perth County, Ontario, and received his education at the public school and St. Mary's Collegiate Institute, becoming principal of the public schools there—Municipal Review of Canada.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION IN ALBERTA

Figures from the 1925 report of the Workmen's Compensation board, which report was tabled in the legislature on Monday, show that since the act became effective, on August 1st, 1918, there has been paid out as compensation to workmen a total of $1,882,275.

In addition to this sum there has been set aside for permanent disabilities and fatal accidents the sum of $1,718,129, out of which $654,375 has been paid for fatal accidents and on permanent disability cases.

The credit balance in this fund at the end of 1925 was $1,269,890, out of which 162 widows and 240 children of deceased workmen, as well as 219 workmen permanently disabled are receiving monthly payments.

Walter Lindley-Jones, editor and founder of the Mercantile Guardian, of London, England, and an authority upon commercial matters in general, recently passed through Canada on the last lap of a journey around the world by Canadian Pacific steamships and trains. Mr. Lindley-Jones states that a terrific boom is due in China as soon as hostilities cease there and that Great Britain and Canada will be the chief beneficiaries.

ALBERTA IS PROSPEROUS

(By John Mackenzie)

The opening days of last week were important ones in Edmonton. On Monday the leader of the opposition, Hon. C. R. Mitchell, turned over his batteries on the government, which was very good humored throughout, however, and announced that the policy of the opposition would be to offer constructive criticism, and he added that the work of the session would be conducted by both sides with the object of serving the electors, and not to fix political fences for the election.

Fred White, Calgary member, and spokesman for the Labor group, said that the Labor group's attitude would be one of co-operation rather than of opposition.

The first speech of the new premier, Hon. J. E. Brownlee, has been looked forward to with expectation from all sides of the House and when he concluded a masterly two-hour address on Tuesday evening, touching on criticism received, on the present condition of the province, and on its future outlook, he was showered with congratulations. Probably the most important feature of the speech was that dealing with finances, and when he announced that he was able to announce for 1925 the second largest surplus in the history of the province, $188,019, in place of the deficit anticipated in the 1925 budget, the enthusiasm was marked. The announcement had been kept a close secret from the members of the House, even from the ministers not directly concerned, and the result was better than the most optimistic had expected.

At the opening of Monday's session a large number of bills were introduced by ministers, mainly amending existing legislation.

E. G. Cock, M.L.A. for Pincher Creek, who seconded the address in reply to the speech from the throne on the previous Friday, recorded his protest against misrepresentations made in several daily newspapers that he was opposed to immigration. Nothing in his speech could be held to bear that construction, he declared, and re-read part of his notes to prove his contention.

Hon. C. R. Mitchell, M.L.A. for Bow Valley, and leader of the Liberal opposition, took occasion first of all to comment on the number of bills introduced, and trusted that they would be completed before the end of the session, rather than be used for the purpose of window dressing in view of the election.

In contradistinction to his supporter, Mr. Dechene, who had protested on the opening day on the House assembling with six seats vacant, Mr. Mitchell's only comment was that the vacancies made the work of the opposition harder, and all the more important that they should scrutinize all legislation carefully.

He charged the government with having neglected the problem of the dry south-east areas of the province, and the settlers there, who had been doing their best to make good, felt that they had been abandoned by the government, the rejection of the government candidate in Medicine Hat by-election voting the people's views in that regard.

Group government was still being featured by the U.F.A., but by and yet to hear the premier or the ex-premier say a word in its favor in the House.

Despite their professions of economy, the government were now spending more money than ever before. The Liberals had left the province with a considerable public debt in 1921, but it was all represented by valuable assets, which could not be said for the expenditures of the present administration.

He favored using the 1919 wheat board surplus for the promotion of co-operative marketing. He objected to the manner in which the late premier had been deprived of his question. This should have been done, if at all, by the public, not by the operations of a caucus.

The natural resources of the province should be placed under a responsible minister of the Crown, not under a commission.

Fred White, speaking for Labor said that the attitude of his group was one of co-operation. This applied both at Edmonton and Ottawa.

He favored the development of Spray Lakes power by the province, rather than by private enterprise.

The recent delegation from the Canadian Manufacturers' Association was criticized on the ground that they had offered no constructive suggestions, but only objected to the proposals brought forward by a previous labor delegation.

He suggested that the $112,000 wheat board surplus should be used as the nucleus of a fund to provide for unemployment, as unemployment was largely caused by seasonal crop conditions. He did not agree with a questioner that enough should be deducted from farm worker's wages to provide for their unemployment, as it was not the men's fault. They were willing to work the year round.

Mr. White, in closing, urged conservation of natural resources for the benefit of the people, a system of long tenure of leased lands owned by the province, arbitration for school disputes, and the appointment of a union man as King's printer. With reference to the six vacancies in the House, he was quite satisfied with the decision of the government. The members who were elected in 1921 should have fulfilled their obligation to stay till the dissolution of the Assembly.

Premier Brownlee, in congratulating the new member from Medicine Hat, expressed the hope that he would repeat in the House the statements made by him during the Medicine Hat by-election. He stated that so far from having neglected the problem of the southeast dry areas, all recommendations made by the strong committee appointed in 1921 had been carried out. He had every confidence that in time that difficult area would be one of the most prosperous in the province, and he challenged the leader of the opposition to declare himself in favor of a policy of seed grain relief, a policy which the present government had advisedly abandoned, but which had been the only solution offered by the previous administration.

Notwithstanding the declarations of the opposition, the government had followed a policy of consistent economy. Running expenses had been reduced by over a million dollars as compared with 1921, and the reasons for any increase in public debt were the obligations left to them by the former administration.

With reference to the King's printer, the government followed the policy of making promotions from within the civil service, where possible.

In making the announcement of the 1925 surplus of $188,019, the premier stated that this did not include the $112,000 wheat board surplus. Under the former administration's system of accounts, the surplus would have been shown as $288,000. The telephone deficit in 1925 was $8,000, as compared with $110,000 in 1924.

One big test of a government was its ability to administer, and he pointed to the results from the Lethbridge Northern system, and the operation of the Liquor Control Board as two examples of the government's success in this direction.

Prosperity had turned to Alberta, and the eyes of the world were turned in our direction. He would like to see the word "immigration" dropped from our vocabulary, and "colonization" substituted. There would undoubtedly be a big rush of settlers to Alberta, and he hoped to help evolve some plan that would make it possible to get the right class of settlers and make them prosperous and satisfied.

There was no doubt that Alberta was on the threshold of a great advance. They should in the present year obtain control of their natural resources, and the wonderful potentialities of the province in coal, oil, water-power, etc., would greatly assist in the development of the province in the next decade.

Stress had been laid on legislation that was supposed to be preventing the loaning of money in Alberta. It was not legislation that had in the past few years withheld loans in this province, but general economic conditions. He had been recently in consultation with the mortgage companies, and he found that in their suggested amendments they had not much complaint to make. He did not believe, moreover, that legislation should be framed entirely in the interest of the mortgage companies, but in the interest of the province as a whole.

Finally, he urged a spirit of co-operation between city and country. Some believed that government could not be conducted except on party lines, but that was not his belief. He believed that throughout Anglo-Saxon democracies an evolution was in progress in the system of government, and we would not be blind to it. Labor was entitled to direct representation. He asked the co-operation of the urban communities in sending representatives to the legislature to co-operate in the governing of this great province of Alberta.

The United Sunday school has now reached such proportions that two sessions are necessary, morning and afternoon, and at that the morning classes occupy all available space in the church, as well as the mission hall and clubroom. It is safe to state that the United Sunday school here is the largest and most active organization of its kind in Canada for a town the size of Blairmore.

Mr. A. McLeod and son Frank left here Sunday morning for Spokane, held by the members of Viny Chap via Kimberley and will likely be absent, O.E.S., in the Lodge Hall on Monday night next.

EPIGRAMS

On monuments and headstones in different places are found such verses as the following:

"To Lena S. Frame, who during his life shot eighty-nine Indians whom the Lord delivered into his hands, and was looking forward to making up his hundred before the end of the year, when he fell asleep in Jesus at his house at Hawk's Ferry, March 27, 1842."

"Here lies Mary the wife of John Ford.
We hope her soul has gone to the Lord;
But if for Hell she has changed her life,
She had better be there than be John Ford's wife."

"In memory of John Shanks, who died of cholera morbus, caused by eating green fruit, in the certain hope of a blessed immortality. Reader, go thou and do likewise."

And this one appears in Woolwich churchyard:

"Sacred to the memory of Major James Brush, Royal Artillery, who was killed by the accidental discharge of a pistol by his orderly on the 15th of April, 1831. Well done, good and faithful servant."

1926 CANADIAN TEACHERS' FEDERATION CONVENTION

The 1926 convention of Canadian Teachers' Federation will be held in Charlottetown, P.E.I., August 2nd to August 6th, and arrangements are now being completed for an all-expense, personally conducted tour via the Canadian National Railway, from Toronto to Charlottetown in connection therewith. This tour will include a trip down the St. Lawrence rapids, the Saguenay river, through the beautiful Bras d'Or Lakes, and the land of Evangeline country, with stop over at Quebec city and trip to St. Anne de Beaupre, returning by way of Boston, the White Mountains of New Hampshire, and Montreal. A leaflet will shortly be issued giving complete information regarding the tour.

For particulars address Martin Kerr, principal of the Earl Kitchen school, 4 Beulah Avenue, Hamilton, or A. E. Bryson, principal of the Silverton school, 44 Silverton Avenue, Toronto.

Teacher—Give a sentence illustrating the use of the word "pencil".

THE CIRCLE TOUR—CALGARY, BLAIRMORE, LAKE LOUISE

With the completion of the Banff-Windermere highway there has been opened up in the heart of the Rockies a circle tour, embracing Calgary, Blairmore, Fernie, Windermere and Banff, which is one of the most interesting highways ever given to mankind. Few people realize that this 100-mile circle is the richest scenic alderado in the world. Mile for mile there is no place yet explored where there can be seen such a constant panorama of the startling and unusual in nature. Certainly there is nothing in the much-heralded American parks that can equal it.

A good place to start this tour is in Calgary, because at some time or other in his travels nearly everybody finds himself in this hub of Western Canada, which is the largest and most progressive, and has the greatest future of any city between Winnipeg and the coast. Going south from Calgary, the road follows just where the sea of prairie rolls up to meet the purple foothills. You pass within a few miles of the Prince of Wales ranch. And truly, you are not surprised that he chose this charming country for his western home. Right here was the birthplace of Canadian romance, and though you see "the cattle of a thousand hills" grazing peacefully, the landscape is full of the suggestion of galloping Indians and red-coated "Mounties."

Next you come to the Crow line, where a grand trunk road has just been completed through a co-operative plan between the Dominion and Provincial governments. This road is in excellent shape and is a real attraction to tourists and an asset of inestimable value to the district. Blairmore is nicely located in The Pass and commands the most beautiful scenery of the trip. Here are to be found several hotels, operated along modern lines, as well as the most ideal tourist camping site of the entire tour.

The first real "Rocky" that you come upon is Crow's Nest Mountain, which takes its name from the Crow Indians who once nested in it to escape their enemies. Alone in the midst of a level plain, it rises abruptly to a height of more than 9000 feet. Its sides look as though they had been tooled by some giant lathe. Behind this clean-cut cone you will see seven or eight huge stone figures, so grotesque that—well, if you are not used to the mountains you will probably get a shock. A little farther on are limestone that resemble nothing so much as a row of unlaunched grey battleships.

But the awfulness of the mountains is not fully realized until you pass over the Frank slide, where the whole side of the mountain slipped off like a blanket in the night, and covered a sleeping town under millions of tons of rock.

Soon after this you reach the summit of the Rocky Mountains. "Dall would be the soul" who could stand on top of the Great Divide and not be thrilled. At a point not far from the road, the waters flowing into the Arctic Ocean and those flowing into the Pacific approximate so closely that an enterprising citizen once cut a toy ditch of a few feet long and diverted the one into the other. The was considered a crime, and his Old Man (the Canadian government) made him fill in his little canal and let each ocean go the way it liked.

Round Crow's Nest Lakes, which are the ultimate in the picturesque, the road sweeps down to Fernie. From Fernie south you have 30 miles of the snarliest peaks, at once so high and so near that they give you the sensation of having skinned along them like a bird or an airplane.

This brings you into the Kootenay Valley, where, believe it or not, the air is just a little balmy and the sunshine a little more cordial than anywhere else on this continent. If you are lucky it will be just about sundown when, by a short detour, you reach McBain Lake. Talk about the pastel shades of an Egyptian sky! Never were colors so gorgeously delicate, so brilliantly soft, at once so riotous and so subdued! Everyone has seen a glassy lake in which the rugged peaks of mountains seem to creep along its surface, above and below, and cling to each other like kites. But when you have, over and over these peaks, an Alpine glow of gold and rose and mauve, with every detail of form and color seen again in the water, the charm of it fills you with speechless delight.

Such scenes are typical of the Kootenay and Columbia. Little lakes of a weird unearthly blue nestle at the feet of mountains streaked with volcanic black. Canyon and waterfall meet your view at every turn. It is in such a setting as this that you come upon the famous Windermere district, which rivals in beauty and is very suggestive of its famous namesake in England. The region is full of interest for the traveler. If you have rheumatism or various other bodily ills you may leave them forever at one of the rich-in-radium hot springs so readily accessible from here. If you are interested in irrigation or mining there is a growing activity along these lines. If you wish Alpine scenery there is nothing finer than the Lake of the Hunging Glacier.

A little beyond Windermere you get into the Vermilion Pass where all the ground is one riot of color. Red and yellow ochre, orange and sulphur, pale green and vermillion, blend into one harmonious polychrome. Sinclair Canyon and the Iron Gates must be seen—they cannot be expressed.

Soon after this you come to Banff and, if you are wise, to Lake Louise, before you complete the circle by going on the Calgary. This is the great playground of Canada; the future playground of the world. The Banff Cascade, the view down the Bow, the Sundance Canyon, are all very wonderful. But the one transcendent gem of the Rockies is Lake Louise. Ask anyone who has been there. Its stilted stream of moss-grey color. Its terminal moraines. Its valley of wonders. But most of all that view from the chalet. This is a living picture gallery hung all round with peaks and glaciers, and like steps leading to a second story is it flight of lakes up into the clouds. I think this was the place the great Russian meant when he said: "I will take the woman I love to the top of a high mountain and show her all the glory of the world." Ex.

Viscount Allenby, hero of the Palestine campaign in the war, will visit Alberta next month.

ST. DAVID'S DAY BANQUET

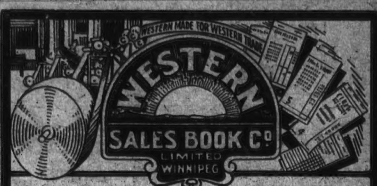

A strong committee of the Calgary St. David's Society was appointed on Friday evening last, to look after all arrangements in connection with the annual banquet to be held on March 1st, at 7 p.m., in the Elizabethan Room of the Hudson's Bay Company. It is the intention of the society this year to surpass any previous banquet which they have had in the past.

The strength of the society this year has been much augmented and the arrangement of the musical programme has been placed in the capable hands of Miss Margueretta Williams, L.A.B., and Mr. J. Rhys Jones, conductor of the Welsh Glee Party, Messrs. Garfield Roberts and David Morgan, the well known Welsh tenors, will both be on the programme, as well as Mr. D. J. Evans, the Welsh baritone. The Welsh Glee Party, under the conductorship of Mr. J. Rhys Jones and the mixed octette which received such an ovation last year, will also be featured. Community singing of Welsh songs will be added as an innovation under the leadership of Mr. George Evans.

Mr. Leonard W. Brockington is arranging for outstanding speakers, whose names will be published later, this preliminary notice being a reminder to Welshmen all over the province to keep this date vacant for the Welsh re-union in commemoration of their patron saint, St. David, it being hoped that all Welsh people in Alberta will avail themselves of the opportunity of celebrating this day with their fellow countrymen in Calgary.

HOW MONEY IS MADE

Behind the Scenes at the Royal Mint at Ottawa

1-Melting furnaces—These blast furnaces burn oil and are charged under air pressure. A series of screens in a combustion chamber at the back of each furnace catch any escaping metal that it blows up the chimney.

2-The weighing room. These machines are operated by hand and weigh each coin to the nearest hundredth of a postage stamp.

3-The made entrance is the Canadian Branch of The Royal Mint at Ottawa.

4-Finishing machine metal into large mounds. A gas jet is played on the lip of the machine so the metal is being poured in to keep it in liquid form, otherwise it would freeze thick and set.

5-The rolling process. The metal is rolled into sheets of a thickness equal to that of the coins to be made from them.

There is a vast difference between making money and coining money. Anyone who is clever enough may make money, says a writer in The Royal Bank Magazine, but the privilege of coining money belongs to the Sovereign.

The only place in Canada where money is actually made is at the Canadian branch of The Royal Mint at Ottawa, which was opened only seventeen years ago, in 1908, for the manufacture of all Canadian coins as well as English sovereigns.

Great exactness is characteristic of all the work at the mint. A certain weight of metal is given out and a certain number of coins must be struck. If one is missing, it is searched for till found. Even the dust which accumulates is collected and used to recover the precious metal it contains.

The processes through which the raw material passes in being transformed from the rough metal into the finished coin are: melting, coining, adjusting, cutting, marking, annealing, blanching, cleaning, coining, testing.

Casting Moulds
The ingots as received from the mint office are placed in crucibles with the proper amount of alloy and melted. The molten metal is poured into cast-iron moulds, thus forming coins that are about two feet long, two inches wide, and half an inch thick.

The bars are not passed on till report has been received from the Assay Office that they are of the right standard.

The Rolling Mill
In the rolling process the bars are thinned by stages to fillets of seventeen or eighteen feet long and of a thickness equal to that of the coins to be made from them.

Next the fillets are taken to the punching machines, where a sample blank is punched out. If this is found to be the right weight the whole strip is passed as standard, but if too light, it is returned to the melting room. Three blanks in copper and two in silver or gold are cut at each stroke, and each machine can produce three hundred gold or silver, and four hundred and fifty bronze blanks in a minute.

The fillets from which the blanks have been cut, known as scissel, go back to be remelted.

The blanks then are passed through the marking machine, where a protecting edge is raised. The machine can mark six hundred blanks in a minute.

The rolling and cutting process makes the metal hard and brittle, so the marked blanks are softened by-passing them through an annealing furnace, are cleaned in a weak solution of sulphuric acid, and washed and dried, the drying being done in a centrifugal drying machine.

Stamping Coins
Coining or stamping is the next process. The presses, of which there are six, have a capacity of 200,000 coins a day. The top and bottom dies, which make the impression on each side of the coin, move up and down, the collar plate, in which the blank is enclosed, remaining stationary. The blanks are placed in a feed tube, and are fed to the dies by steel fingers, which take one at a time and place it in the collar. The dies come together and form the impression on both sides at once. The milled edge on the final polish are also put on at this one operation.

Examining and Weighing
The next step is the testing and examining of the coins. In the case of gold, and fifty and twenty-five cent silver coins, each is weighed on an automatic machine. The ten-cent and five-cent pieces are weighed in groups, against a standard dollar weight, the one-cent pieces against a pound of avoirdupois. One hundred and forty of the small one-cent pieces should weigh exactly one pound. The electrically operated weighing machines are so accurate that, when loaded, the beam will turn to the seventeenth part of a postage stamp.

The coins passed by the automatic scales as being of the correct weight are taken to the examining machine, where they are spread on two travelling belts and carefully examined. One inspector examines one side and another the other side, so that both sides can be inspected at once. Any that are discoloured or imperfect are picked out. The perfect coins are dropped singly on an iron block to see that they have the correct weight; 20,000 such coins can be sounded in a day. Any found to be imperfect are put through a defacing machine, which cuts notches around the rim and then the coins are sent to the melting furnace.

The coins that have stood all these tests are then weighed into certain fixed amounts and forwarded to the mint office where they are weighed into bags by the telling machine. The coins are then ready for circulation as small change.

Winning New Customers

This ever-present task of the business man is one that Advertising can most efficiently perform.

Advertising in "The Enterprise" would carry any message you desire into every home in this community. It would spread the "news" about new merchandise, special sales or new store policies quickly and thoroughly.

Extracts From Directors' Report

Your Directors present the fifty-fifth annual report for your approval.

The Company's statements have for years reflected its constantly increasing expansion and prosperity, but this year marks an epoch in the life of the organization. It has now passed the Billion Dollar mark in assurance in force, the amount after deducting re-assurances being $1,021,097,101.94.

Applications for new assurances have been the largest in our history, aggregating $220,534,526.67. The new policies paid for numbered 57,941, for the amount of $193,477,057.26, after deducting amounts re-assured. The new business for the year exceeds the total amount of business the Company had in force only thirteen years ago.

The gratifying evidences of growth and expansion [exhibited in the accompanying statement] are paralleled in regard to strength and profitability. Notwithstanding the general decline in interest rates, the Company has been able not merely to continue, but to slightly increase its record in this connection, the rate earned during the year on the mean invested assets having been 6.41 per cent.

Several factors have contributed to produce this result, not the least important being an increase in the dividends paid by some of the corporations in which the Company has substantial stock holdings.

Even more important than interest yield has been the advance in the market value of our securities. For many years we have specialized in long term bonds and preferred and common stocks of outstanding corporations, both in Canada and in the United States. We are now reaping the rewards of this policy. On actual sales of municipal debentures and other securities which had risen to high premiums, we have realized a net profit of $2,215,772.41, while the increase in the value of securities still held has been much greater.

The profits earned by the Company during the year, based on the increase in the valuation of our securities as made by the government authorities, has been $21,066,284.00. We have not thought it wise, however, to take credit for this entire amount, and... have made a deduction of $3,000,000 from the official valuation placed on our assets. We have moreover added $2,500,000 to our Contingency Accounts, bringing these up to a total of $10,000,000.

Following the practice of recent years, we have written off $750,000 from the book value of our Head Office and Branch Buildings, and other real estate.

We have also, by setting aside an additional $350,000, further strengthened the special reserve to provide for possible greater longevity among annuitants, bringing the total amount under this heading up to $1,100,000 in excess of government requirements.

During the year we have paid or allotted $7,662,784.35 as profits to our policyholders. After deducting this sum, and the accretions to shareholders' account, and making the foregoing heavy allocations, we have yet been able to add $6,532,642.75 to our undivided profits bringing the total surplus over all liabilities, Contingency Accounts and Capital up to $28,640,000.69.

For the sixth consecutive year we are able to announce an increase in the scale of profits to be distributed to our policyholders in the ensuing year.

To provide for the expansion of our business, it has been necessary to make an extension of the Head Office building, which has now been completed, and will be formally opened on the day of our Annual Meeting. The building is devoted exclusively to the use of the Company; but it is already evident that we must at once provide for further enlargement.

Peace On Earth; Goodwill Toward Men

This is the season when the old Christmas song of the angels, "Peace on earth, goodwill toward men," will be sung throughout the world, when from press and pulpit the glories of peace and goodwill among all men and nations will be proclaimed, when exhortations will be voiced urging all people by precept and the force of example to do what lies in their power to promote these essential qualities at home and abroad.

Perhaps never before in the world's history did there exist a more earnest and widespread desire for international peace and goodwill, and the greatest and most outstanding evidence of this is to be found in the signing of the Locarno treaties, and in the growing influence of the League of Nations.

There is also evidence in many countries, and happily so in Canada, a larger and growing spirit of tolerance. More and more there is developing a willingness among people to let bygones be bygones, to accord to others that same liberty of thought in matters of language, religion, politics, and racial customs which one demands for oneself. Canadians generally are not now concerning themselves with petty issues as to whether their neighbors of foreign birth continue to make use of their mother tongue, or worship God in some manner different from their own. There is, in Canada, a growing acceptance of a man for his own character and qualities quite apart from his racial origin, the language he speaks, or the altar at which he worships. The general recognition and acceptance of such views is essential to the development of peace and goodwill.

Unfortunately, there is one section of the world where, as yet, this spirit does not hold sway; where, on the contrary, all the old racial, linguistic and religious animosities are flaring, and still threaten the peace of the world. The reference is to that group of small independent nations in southeastern Europe—the Balkan States. For the past three-quarters of a century or more this conglomerate mixture of races and religions has disturbed the peace of Europe, and hardly a year passes without the threat of a new conflagration. While the great nations of the world are anxiously striving for peace, these little States remain hot beds of suspicion and intrigue, continually伺伺 to attack each other. Their populations have become so mixed that in each country there are racial and religious minorities always stirring up trouble and giving excuse for the enforcement of oppressive policies and acts of ruthlessness against them.

It was not a pretty nor encouraging picture of the situation in the Balkans which was drawn by Hugh Edwards, M.P., in the British House of Commons, in an address to the meeting of the Women's Canadian Club of Montreal on the occasion of the meeting of the Inter-Parliamentary Union at Ottawa. Contrasting the spirit and policy of the British Empire in its treatment of minorities, Mr. Edwards said:

"The fierce and vehement discussion which took place in the Inter-Parliamentary Union meeting at Ottawa has made it very evident that these little Balkan States have not yet failed to heart the agonizing memories of the late war. The Balkan Peninsula is still a seething cauldron of fierce, racial antagonisms; and unless some magic change is soon wrought in the temper of these little states it will not be long before the pot boils over again and drenches Europe once more with blood. We all rejoiced in the signing of that treaty with Germany at Locarno. It was a war impossible in the Balkans. I am weary for the East, when I find these little states showing such bitterness and such fierce racial antagonisms."

Similar feelings retarded Canada's progress in the past. On more than one occasion great national questions were decided, not on their merits, but as the result of the most unworthy and sinister racial and religious propaganda. A better day has dawned in this Dominion, and the people will no longer tolerate appeals of this nature. But Canada's interests require the removal of all such darker spots throughout the world. Our people may not be able directly to do anything very effective in the Balkans, but Canadians can by staunch support of the League of Nations, and by a friendly and brotherly attitude towards such of these Balkan peoples as have come to live in Canada, help materially to develop a right spirit and thus assist to overcome these old antagonisms. These newcomers in Canada will pass on the word to their friends and relatives in their former Balkan homes that there is a better way, while the League of Nations offers the only hope through which official and organized action can be taken among the Balkan peoples themselves.

An Interesting Invention

Scotch Linen Weaver Has Treasured
Driven By Mice

In a certain town in Scotland is an interesting historical invention of a linen weaver, by the name of David Hutton. It is a miniature treadmill to be driven by mice. The treadmill was connected to a young machine designed for the purpose of spinning wool thread. Records relate how in this way the legendary Scotchman made a clear profit of 5s. per mouse per year. Indeed, his suggested building 10,000 similar mouse mills, which would yield a profit of £2,350 per annum, but the project fell through.

Heavy Fire Losses

Says the Annual Fire Loss in Canada and U.S. is $550,000,000

The board of directors of the International Association of Fire, Chiefs and Engineers, headed by Chief James Armstrong, of Kingston, president, went into executive session at Los Angeles to formulate an educational programme to reduce the enormous fire losses in the United States and Canada.

Chief Armstrong declared that "education is the only solution of the problem, which involves a yearly fire loss of $550,000,000 and which still is growing."

New Industry At Coast

Raising Pedigree Rabbits in Fast Growing Poultry Industry

A little-patched industry, but one that bids fair to attain large proportions on Vancouver Island, is raising pedigree rabbits in the middle of the city and around suburban homes—pedigree rabbit raising. On the Spanish Peninsula alone there are now more than twenty rabbitries, some already operating on a large scale, and others' fast growing to sizable proportions.

While the production of thoroughbred rabbits for stock purposes is at present the most prized, one of the modern rabbitry business, the possibilities of fur-raising and meat production loom large on the market side of the industry now in its infant stages compared to the proportions it has reached in other countries.

It may come as a surprise to the layman to learn that a thoroughbred rabbit brings $100 to $200 in the market for breeding purposes, and that it is a common thing for certain breeds to attain a weight of from fifteen to eighteen pounds.

The growing demand for furs for women's dresses and other uses has led to a great increase in the use of dyed furs. The rabbit supplies a very large percentage of the artificially prepared furs, passing under trade names.

HOW TO RELIEVE CHILDREN'S COLDS

Avoid Serious Results by Using Baby's Own Tablets

When a child shows the first symptoms of a cold, such as sneezing, redness of the eyes, clogged or running nose, prompt measures for relief may avert serious results. Mothers should always have on hand some simple, safe and effective remedy for immediate use.

Baby's Own Tablets act quickly, contain no opiates or narcotics, are tasteless and harmless. Mrs. Joseph Cadolux, Holyoke, Mass., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children and find them a very satisfactory medicine. When my little boy had a cold I gave him the Tablets and he was well in a few days. I give them to the children for constipation and they always do good. I think Baby's Own Tablets are much easier to give a child than liquid medicine. I recommend the Tablets to all mothers who have small children and believe they should always be kept on hand."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 25c per box, post paid, from The Williams-McCormick Co., Brockton, Ont.

Discovers New Metal

One-Third As Heavy As Bronze, Brass Or Iron, Much Stronger

The discovery of a new metal one-third as heavy as bronze, brass or iron, and three times as strong as any of them, has been reported from the University of Kentucky. The discoverer, Mr. Harold McLean, is an Orillia old boy, and his parents and other relatives still live in that town. Mr. McLean has been doing research work on his venture for nine years, and, beyond saying that the materials for the new metal are plentiful, has not divulged his formula to anyone, according to The Orillia Packet.

The Last Asthma Attack may really be the last one if prompt measures are taken. Dr. J. D. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy will safeguard you. It will penetrate to the smallest bronchial passage and bring about a healthy condition. It always relieves and its continued use often has a permanent effect. Why not try this long known remedy today and commence its use? Inhaled as smoke or vapor it is equally effective.

A Clever Retort

An excellent protection against worms can be got in Miller's Worm Powders. They render the stomach and intestines untenable to them. They heal the irritations that have become inflamed by the attacks of the parasites and serve to restore the strength of the child that has been undermined by the trouble that the worms have made upon it, and that their operation is altogether health-giving.

Big Real Estate Sale

One of the biggest real estate deals in London's history was concluded when Lord Hovart de Winton sold 40 acres of London property for a reported sum of $15,000,000. The acreage includes some of the richest and some of the poorest streets in the west end of London.

Disarmament Is Only Solution

Locarno Pact Merely Marks Beginning Of European Peace

What is to come after Locarno? This is the question the British press and public are asking. Ramsay MacDonald and Lloyd George, both former members, Viscount Cecil and Austen Chamberlain, the foreign secretary, have repeatedly stated that the Locarno pact, which was signed Dec. 1, merely marks the beginning of Europe's peace. It settles the difference between France and Germany but the other European states and Great Britain now need guarantees against war.

Disarmament is conceded to be the only solution, but how this can be effected with safety and justice to all is a burning question.

Viscount Gell indicated recently in the House of Lords that Britain was seriously considering a new disarmament conference and will shortly bring out disarmament plans of its own, but the difficulty of doing this is pointed out in the press, because of Britain's junior position and the resultant dangers she stands from enemy air and submarine forces. Though Germany and France are at peace, their air and undersea forces still menace the British Isles.

New Preference Rules Of New Zealand

Regulation Will Affect Canadian Assembly Branches of American Firms

New Zealand is doubling the percentage of British labor and materials required in imports under British preference rates. The present percentage of "British origin" required is twenty-five. The new regulations which come into force on April 1 next, require fifty.

The effect of this will be that Canadian goods exported to New Zealand will have to be fifty per cent. Canadian labor and materials, if they are to get the advantage of the British preference. The increase will particularly affect Canadian branches of American firms which are only assembling, or partly manufacturing, in Canada.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

DECEMBER 30

PAUL'S SUMMARY OF HIS LIFE

Golden Text: I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith. 2 Timothy 4:7. Lesson: 2 Timothy 2:10, 11; 4:6-15. Devotional Reading: Revelation 7:1.

The Text Explained and Illumined

Timothy is reminded of Paul's sufferings and deliverances, 2:10, 11—Timothy has followed his teaching. Paul writes; he had witnessed his conduct, and realized his purpose, faith, long suffering, love and patience. He had known about the manifold persecutions which Paul had had to endure, at Antioch, Iconium, Lystra, and elsewhere; and the great fact that out of them all God had delivered him. And then Paul versus Timothy: that persecution is the common lot of all faithful followers of Christ Jesus.

Paul in plenty we shall meet, Hearty courages come freely, So we press with eager feet, Up and on. Ever onward to the right, Ever upward to the light, Ever true to God and Right, Up and on!—John Oxenham.

McGILLIVRAY FIRM RECEIVES $32,000 IN FOUR YEARS

EDMONTON, Feb. 25.—The legal firm of McGillivray and Helman, of Calgary, received from the Alberta government, for civil and criminal business, the sum of $32,031.84 during the years 1922, 1923, 1924 and 1925.

This was the answer given on Tuesday afternoon in the Alberta legislature by Premier Brownlee in reply to questions on the day's order paper, put by J. M. Dechene, Liberal, Beaver River.

Of this sum the McGillivray and Helman firm received in 1922, $10,600 as criminal fees, and in 1923, $9,506 as criminal fees, these amounts being paid, said Premier Brownlee, in connection with the famous Picariello case.

In 1924 the firm was paid $2,223.84 for criminal, and $202 for civil business, and in 1925, $9,583 for criminal business alone.

Jasper National Park in northern Alberta, with an area of 4400 square miles, is one of the largest "playgrounds" in the world. A part of this reserve to the north of the central section is still unexplored, but the park is being rapidly opened up by the construction of trails and highways.

NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH DEDICATED AT HILLCREST

A large congregation attended the official opening of the new Catholic church at Hillcrest on Monday morning. The service opened at 8:30, with His Lordship's Bishop Kidd, of Calgary, assisted by Rev. Fathers Laroux, Cozman, McCormick and Donovan present.

With the solemn ritual of the church, the bishop first blessed the building, then proceeded to the sanctuary, blessing the new altar, the tabernacle and altar furnishings and sacred vessels. He then celebrated the first mass in the new church.

In his sermon his lordship congratulated the large congregation present on their efforts in erecting the new building. He urged them to have recourse to the intercession of Saint Theresa, of the Child Jesus, the patron saint of the new church. He spoke of the purpose for which God gave the church to the world, and mentioned some of the touching associations that this humble sanctuary would have in their lives. After the services there was a presentation and the people had the occasion to meet His Lordship.

The new church will be attended by Rev. Father R. J. Donovan, B.A., pastor at Bellevue.

Moose hunters who have recently been out in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, report that the snow is so deep in the woods that moose are finding it difficult to make their way about the forest. One hunter reports that he observed seven moose, four cows and three bulls, become so tired moving through the snow that at the end of about every hundred yards they would lay down exhausted.

A young Briton not yet 20 years of age has written to the London correspondent of The Manchester Guardian, his sad reflection on the passing of 1925. Taking woman's fashions, he alludes to the diminution of the apex of the human form divine and the glorification of the base. Women, he says, have cut off their hair, and in order further to accentuate the unimportance of the face they wear a cloth cap which almost extinguishes it. "At the same time," he says, "they have turned all their ingenuity into increasing the interest in what used to be called the lower limbs. The result is that 1926 is faced by a feminine world where the interest has changed from the head to the feet."

Bishop Pinkham has notified the executive committee of the Calgary diocese of his contemplated resignation to take effect on August 7th next, that being the 39th anniversary of his consecration as a bishop. Bishop Pinkham is now the senior Anglican bishop in the world, dating from consecration. He was eighty-one years old on November 11th last, and is retiring because of his advanced age. He is a native of Newfoundland and has labored in Western Canada for fifty-seven years, coming to Winnipeg, then a village, in 1868. He took up residence in Calgary in 1887, upon being consecrated bishop of Saskatchewan, which diocese then included all the Northwest Territories. Bishop Pinkham's successor is to be decided by election.

BAREE, SON OF KAZAN

James Oliver Curwood
A LOVE EPIC OF THE FAR NORTH

Copyright, 1917, by Doubleday, Page & Co.
"BAREE, SON OF KAZAN," a Vitaphone Picture, With Wolf, the War Dog.
An Adaptation of This Story

Even at that distance Baree could see him grinning affably; he saw the outstretched hand, and the voice stirred new emotions in him. "It was not like this," he said. "I had never loved Elvira. Neither was it as if I were with the Willows." He had known only a few men, and all of them he had regarded with distrust. But this was a voice that disarmed him. It was hushed in its appeal. He wanted to answer it. He was filled with a desire, all at once, to follow close at the heels of this stranger. For the first time in his life he craved for the friendship of man possessed him. He did not move until Jim Carvel entered the spruce. Then he followed.

That night they were camped in a dense growth of cedars and balsam poplars north of Bush McGeath's ranch. For two hours he had moved, and their trail was covered. It was still snowing, but not a flake of the white dust lifted down through the thick canopy of boughs. Carvel had put up his small elk tent, and had built a fire; their supper was served, and Baree lay on his belly facing the outlaw, almost within reach of his hand. With his back to a tree, Carvel was smoking luxuriously. He had thrown off his cap and his coat, and in the warm blanket he looked almost boyishly young. But even in that glow his jaws lost none of their squareness, nor his eyes their clear alertness.

"I'm a bad one, old chap," he chuckled. "You haven't got it on me—not a bit. Want to know what happens?" He waited a moment, and Baree looked at him steadily. "They Carvel went on, as if speaking to a human. 'Let's see—it was five years ago, five years this December, just before Christmas time.' Had a—Dad. Fine old chap, my Dad was. No Mother—just the old man. When you added us up we made just One. Understand? And along came a white-striped skunk named Hardy and shot

STRATFORD WOMAN

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Stratford, Ontario. "After my first baby was born I started to work on the tenth day and did a big washing on the twelfth day. Being so young I was married at 17 I did not know what was the matter, so I got so until I was all run-down, weak and nervous, and had a bad temper. For nearly two years I could not sleep and would always complain of having 'hot a head-ache, but a brain-ache.' My mother is taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during the Change of Life and she recommended it to me. After taking two bottles I began to feel a little sleep and to feel better and I have never felt off since then, except for about three months. I can safely say I have taken thirty bottles since my second baby was born. I think it makes child-birth easier as I had terrible pains with my first three children and very few with my fourth as I was so much stronger. I am now able to do my work alone, but I am still taking the Vegetable Compound as I am nursing baby."—Mrs. Owen Pratt, 49 Cherry Street, Stratford, Ontario.

Have you suffering from any weakness which causes such symptoms as pains in the side and back and nervous feelings, like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial now.

and the height of Land he had played the game with the wolves. Once he had almost lost, but that was out in the open. Baree, it seemed, had been a fire, and in the event of his firewood running out he had trees he could climb. His anxiety just now was centered in Elvira. So he said, making his voice quite casual:

"You aren't going, are you, old chap?"

If Baree heard him he gave no evidence of it. But Carvel, still watching him closely, saw that the hair along his spine had risen like a brush, and then he heard—growing slowly in Baree's throat—a snarl of ferocious hatred. It was the sort of snarl that had held back the Factor from Lac Batin, and Carvel, opening the breach of his gun to see that all was right, chuckled happily.

"Baree," he said, "perhaps it meant something to him, for he turned his head suddenly and with flattened ears looked at his companion."

The wolves were silent now. Carvel knew that that meant and was tensely alert. In the stillness, the click of the safety on his rifle sounded, with metallic sharpness. For many minutes they heard nothing but the crack of the fire. Suddenly Baree's muscles seemed to snap. He sprang back, and faced the quarter-bush Carvel, his head level with his shoulders, his inch-long fangs gleaming as he snarled into the black cavern of the forest beyond the rim of firelight.

Carvel had turned like a flash of lightning. It was almost frighteningly how he saw. A pair of eyes burning with greenish fire, and then another pair, and after that so many of them that he could not have counted them. It gave a sudden gasp. They were like cat-eyes, many much larger. Some of them, catching the firelight, were red as coal, others bluish blue and green—living things without bodies. "With a single glance he took in the black circle of the forest; they were out there, too, they were on all sides of them, but where he had seen them first they were thickest. In these first few seconds he had forgotten Baree, ayed almost to stupefaction by that monstrous cordon of death that heaped them on. There were fifty—perhaps a hundred wolves on that stretch of nothing in all this savage world but fire. They had come up without the sound of a pad, foot or a broken twig. If it had been a forest and they had been asleep, and the fire out."

He shuddered, and for a moment the thought got the better of his nerves. He had not intended to shoot except from necessity, but all at once he felt a pain in his shoulder and he felt a stream of fire out where the eyes were thickest. Baree knew what the shot meant, and filled with a mad desire to get at the throat of one of his enemies he dashed in. In that direction Carvel saw a startled yell as he went. He saw the flash of Baree's body, saw it swallowed up in the gloom, and in that same instant heard the deadly clash of fangs and the impact of bodies. A wild thrill shot through him. The dog had charged alone—and the wolves had waited. There could be but one end. His four-footed comrade had gone straight into the jaws of death!

Famous Polar Ship

In H. B. Service

Amundsen's "Maud" Will Fly As Tender In Canadian Waters.

Captain Amundsen's famous polar exploration ship "Maud," from now on will ply Canadian waters, and will possibly be seen next summer by some of the Edmonton traders, who make the annual pilgrimage to the Arctic coast.

On her return from the fruitless effort to drift with the ice to Europe via the Siberian coast, and the northeast passage, the "Maud" was sent to Seattle, where the ice pioneer was purchased by the Hudson's Bay Company.

With the coming of the spring the vessel will be sent north via the Behring Straits. Once in Canadian Arctic waters she will be used as a tender in connection with the company's large ocean-going steamers "Baychimo." It is understood that the latter will not go further than the Herald Island, due to the danger of being caught in the ice packs. She will unload her cargo there for the many new H. B. Co. posts recently established in the Arctic, the "Maud" transferring the cargo to its various destinations.

Joint Stiffness Goes,

Swellings Disappear,

Pain Is Subdued

No Lintiment Gives Such Universal Satisfaction As

NERVILINE

It is the great penetrating power of Nerviline that makes it so efficient in overcoming joint stiffness and inflammation. It rubs into the very core of the pain, penetrates quickly and thoroughly, and brings a warm, comforting relief at once. No lintiment compares in pain relieving power with Nerviline. For the minor pains and ills that arise in every family, Nerviline should always be kept handy on the shelf. Use it for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia and Colic. 35 cents at all dealers.

The average railroad tie, in its natural state, lasts about seven and one-half years; if treated with preservative, about 15 years.

She Could Never Do The Things Other Girls Did

Miss L. J. Ross, Redland, Ala., writes:—"I am only twenty years old, but have suffered from heart palpitation and nerve trouble for years."

I could never do the things other girls did, that is, in the line of sports, skating, etc., and I could never depend on myself at work. About six months ago I began taking and am just twice the girl I was, and can enjoy everything in general life so much more. I am very grateful for what your Pills have done for me.

Can Use Waste Hops. The discovery has just been announced by British scientists of a microbe whereby 10,000 tons of waste hops can be made annually into 500,000 gallons of alcohol that may be used as motor spirit.

Disposal of waste hops formerly sold British brewers large sums every year.

Stop the Cough—Coughing is caused by irritation in the respiratory passages and is the effort to dislodge obstructions that come from inflammation of the mucous membrane. The cough is caused by Dr. Thayer's Remedy. It will allay the inflammation and in consequence the cough will usually stop. Try it and you will be satisfied.

Minerals in B.C.

The mineral production of the Dominion for last year is estimated at $225,500,000, an increase of about $18,000,000 over the previous year. Of this increase, British Columbia accounts for about $14,000,000, or seven-tenths of the whole. This province accounts for a seventh of the gold, nearly half the silver, two-thirds of the copper and nearly all the lead and zinc.

FIGHTING FOR

BABY'S HEALTH

Is the Constant Care of Every Young Mother

The young mother has a constant care in looking after the welfare of her little ones. Childhood ailments come on so suddenly—sometimes with a minute's warning—the mother may have a very sick baby on her hands before help can be obtained. That is unless she has a remedy in the house which she can safely give the baby for any of the many minor ailments of babyhood and childhood.

Such a remedy is found in Baby's Own Tablets. Thousands of mothers throughout the country always keep a box of the Tablets on hand and they protect them with as much care as equal for sweetening baby's stomach, regulating his bowels, and thus driving out constipation and indigestion, colds and simple fevers, and making the dread teething period easy.

Baby's Own Tablets are an absolutely safe remedy. They are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any other narcotics, which are so harmful to the future welfare of the baby. Mothers, if you value the life of your little ones give him Baby's Own Tablets when he is ill, or better still, give him an occasional dose of the Tablets to ward off illness. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or will be sent to any address, post paid, at 10¢ each, a box by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Extract Helium From Air

Is Claim of British Oxygen Company at North Wembley.

One more of the great secrets of nature has been successfully probed by British scientists and exploited by a British firm. For the first time—except, perhaps, in the laboratory of men like Sir William Ramsay—the British Oxygen Company, at its North Wembley works, claims to have extracted pure helium from the air. The company has employed a powerful machine, with a cylinder of huge dimensions, sucking in the atmosphere, to separate helium gas from its various gases. Helium is regarded as the rarest non-inflammable gas available for the inflation of dirigibles. It is said that one might place a lighted match in a volume of it and the flame would be extinguished.

All mothers can put away anxiety regarding their suffering children when they use Gray's Worm Expeller to give relief. Its effects are sure and lasting.

Little Helps For This Week

While they are yet speaking I will hear.—Isa. lxxv, 24.

Every learned nation is God's angel unlearned. And for every "O, my Father," Stumblers up at "Here, my child."

If we use the name of God in this not God's presence becoming factor in us? No need, then, of being "Great" to share that aspiration and that presence. The smallest roadside pool has its water from heaven and its glass from the sun, and can hold the stars in its bosom as well as the great ocean. Even so the humblest man or woman can live splendidly. That is the royal truth that we need to learn, you and I have no mission, and no great sphere to move in.—William Channing Gannett.

Persistent Asthma. A most distressing characteristic of this debilitating disease is the persistence with which recurring attacks come to sap away strength and leave the sufferer in a state of almost continual exhaustion. No wiser precaution can be taken than that of keeping at hand a supply of Dr. T. C. Kollege's Asthma Remedy, famous as the most potent remedy for eradicating the disease from the tender air passages.

When Duke of York Refused. The Duke of York refused his courage in the hands of Africa, but he backed away when urged to try his hand at ironing one of his father's shirts. The King's second son was on a tour of inspection through the laundry, which handles the linens of the royal family, when the invitation came.

Stallingly declining, he said: "I might burn one of His Majesty's shirts and get into trouble over it."

This is a sort of perpetual motion arrangement for making yesterday's out-of-tomorrow.

Says Man Like A Bicycle
Keeps Running As Long As He Stays Active

Conspicuously by a London Evening News man reaching his sixtieth year, Lord Phillimore said his secret of long life, health and happiness lay in hard work, plenty of fresh air and domestic happiness.

"As long as a bicycle keeps running," he said, "it stays upright. It is the same in human life. To live long one must keep active. Idleness is fatal."

Its Quality Sells It.—The fact that so many thousands of intelligent people continue to use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil speaks volumes for its healing efficiency. Ever since it was first introduced it has grown steadily in public favor, owing entirely to its manifold usefulness in relieving and healing the sick.

Items of Local and General Interest

Sergt. Duncan, of the A.P.P., was a business visitor to Lethbridge by motor last week end.

Mr. Morgan, of Calgary, was down over the week end, visiting his uncle, Mr. Evan Morgan.

We understand that the place of Thorson et al. versus the Blairmore School District has been set down for April 5th at Calgary.

Will the party who took a rent's light grey cap, with red silk lining, from the Lodge Hall last night please leave same at The Enterprise office.

Livingstone Lodge No. 22, Knights of Pythias, are holding a whist drive and social on tomorrow (Friday) night in the Lodge Hall. Good prizes, good eats and good music.

Mr. Callaghan, principal of the Ryley school, spent a few days in Blairmore during the week. Mr. Callaghan is enjoying a whist holiday owing to ill health.

Rumor has it that the Coleman coal companies have secured large contracts for coal that will ensure rather steady work at the mines for the greater part of the year.

To the Blairmore School Board we would suggest that it might be in the interests of their economy programme to employ some of those Russian teachers who are willing to work for $3.50 per week.

Miss Fern Palmer returned this week from a visit to Clareholm, and we understand will return to that point in the course of a few days to accept a position as teacher, at a larger salary than she received here.

Thomas T. Caven, former C.P.R. conductor for many years on this division, died rather suddenly at Vancouver the early part of the week. He is survived by a widow and one daughter. Mr. Caven was fifty-five years of age.

A newspaper publisher offered a prize to the best answer to the conundrum, "Why is a newspaper like a woman?" The prize was won by a lady who sent in this answer: "Because every man should have one of his own and not run after his neighbors."

The work of gravelling the trunk highway between Rock Creek and Bellevue is going ahead rapidly, and a splendid surface is being made. We understand that the gravelling will continue through main street at Bellevue, and also through Blairmore, provided the town authorities are willing to meet a portion of the cost of same.

The Blairmore Juveniles defeated Bellevue in the second of a home-and-home series here on Monday night for the provincial championship by a score of five to three. The game, witnessed by about four hundred fans, was indeed the finest exhibition of the popular winter game seen this season. Real pep followed the game throughout. Walter Scott, referee. The boys next meet the "All Indians," of Staniford.

The dance held in the Lodge Hall last night by the social committee of the local I.O.O.F. Lodge was one of the most enjoyable affairs held in that hall. The hall was nicely decorated with balloons and ribbons, and during the dances, confetti and streamers was freely used by the dancers. The special lighting effect of a spot-light during moonlight waltzes was also very effective. A splendid supper was put on by the ladies of the Rebekah Lodge and everybody had a good time to say the least. Mason's three-piece orchestra supplied the music and were in fine trim. The Oddfellows intend to put on something similar probably once a month.

Dad Palmer will this season use a corn seeder to distribute his mearon seed.

Laurence, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Stevens, has gone to Lethbridge to attend school.

The Alberta government will help pay the loss on shipment of 200,000 tons of Alberta coal to Ontario.

Messrs. Thompson & Jackson have been retained as solicitors for the town of Pincher Creek, at a salary of $150.

Watch for later announcements of the Big Special to be put on by the Pythian Sisters of Greenhill Temple on the evening of March 17th.

The local Elk's Third Degree team journeyed to Pincher Creek last night and successfully piloted the Pincher Creek herd through the forest.

It takes only a yard and a quarter of goods to make a dress for the modern girl, and shouldn't take much more than an hour and a quarter to do the making.

So mild has been the weather in Alberta that it has been possible to start spring work on the land at several points in the Calgary and Lethbridge districts.

The Ladies' Aid of the United Church will hold their annual Easter tea, sale of work, etc., on Thursday, April 1st. Further notices later. Please remember the date.

An auction sale of farm stock and implements took place at the ranch of Charles Mitchell, south of Beaver Mines, yesterday. W. T. Eddy, of Lundbreck, was auctioneer.

Fertile district this year has the usual appropriation of $35,000 for road work, $12,000 of which is for a start on the new Corbin road which it is estimated will require $200,000 to complete.

R. E. Davidson, president of the Lethbridge Conservative Association, received the nomination at the convention held for the purpose of nominating a candidate to contest that seat in the next provincial election.

Mrs. McVey, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Morency and Mr. D. A. Howe returned Sunday morning from Calgary, where they had been attending the sessions of the Alberta Grand Lodge, I.O.O.F. and Rebekah Assembly in company with a number of others.

Jack Nolan, organizer of the U.M. W. of A. at Drumheller and well known boxer, was shot and killed by Constable McKee, of the town police at Drumheller at an early hour of Saturday morning, following an altercation. Nolan leaves a wife and two children.

A storage warehouse, to cost about seven million dollars is to be erected in Toronto. Although erected by private capital, the warehouse will have the support of the Canadian National Railways, which had under consideration the erection of somewhat similar facilities. The plans are even more comprehensive than those of the railway.

Comparing the writup of the first of the supplied-to-be home-and-home games between Blairmore and Coleman in the Allan cup play-down, contained in the Coleman Journal, with those that appeared in the Calgary and Lethbridge daily papers, we hasten to congratulate The Journal upon the fair statement given. It is time that personal criticism of the actions of members of the managing executive or the players should be eliminated from press reports and that the patronizing public be allowed to judge for themselves. Particular mention of certain players or teams is not conducive to the best in sports, since all are out to do their best.

Roy Davidson has been chosen as Conservative candidate for the Lethbridge constituency.

Premier C. A. Dunning, of Saskatchewan, has entered the King cabinet as minister of railways.

The Pincher Creek council has donated the sum of $40 towards the Musical Festival Cup and Shield.

There will not be a dance in the Lodge Hall on Saturday night next, February 27th. Watch for announcements for Saturday, March 6th.

Ed. Royle and family have at last become residents of Blairmore and have taken up residence on Dearborn Street west, south of the C.P.R. station.

An exchange remarks: "Saskatchewan is said to have a horse population of 1,170,745. Now we know where the flies go in the winter time."

Norwegians and descendants in Canada will hold a celebration at Camrose, Alberta, the coming summer, the date being announced as July 3rd to 6th, inclusive.

Mrs. A. B. Steeves, of the Fernie Swastikas, stopped off here for a few days, returning from Banff, where they lost to the Edmonton Monarchs team by a two-to-one score.

The stock in trade, furniture and fixtures of the Minge's Cafe at Bellevue were sold by sheriff's sale on Monday afternoon. Sheriff McDonald, of Blairmore, was auctioneer.

J. H. Bond left on Sunday night's train for Monarch where he has accepted a position as principal of the public school at a salary of $1850 per year. Mrs. Bond and children will join Mr. Bond in a few days.

Some health rules: Eat less, chew more; ride less, walk more; clothes less, baths more; worry less, work more; idle less, play more; talk less, think more; go less, sleep more; waste less, give more; scold less, laugh more; preach less, practice more.

The regular monthly meeting of the Blairmore Board of School Trustees takes place tomorrow night. At this meeting applications for the position of secretary-treasurer, to fill the vacancy caused through the resignation of Mr. J. R. Gresham, will be considered.

Announcement is made that the C.P.R. will construct an hotel on a downtown site at Regina, to be in operation early in the summer of 1927. The hotel is to consist of about two hundred guest rooms. The company has agreed to use as much as possible of the material assembled on the Wascona Park site for the G.T.P. hotel.

Grand Organizer Tony McKinley has decided on Tuesday, March 16th, as the night on which the Macleod P.O.E. will be instituted. It is expected that a big crowd will be in attendance from Nanaimo, Vulcan, Staveland, Clareholm, Granby, Pincher Creek, Blairmore, Coleman, Lethbridge, Calgary and other points. It is likely that "Shorty" McKinnon, the exalted ruler of Coleman Lodge, will be one of the representatives from that town.

A man reached the station platform just as the 5.15 was pulling out. A little burst of speed netted him fifty feet in overcoming the train's handicap, but the best he could do thereafter was to run a losing race. He quit at the end of the long platform and returned. "Miss your train, sir?" enquired the porter cheerfully. "No, my friend," he replied, "Oh, no! I was just chasing it out of the yard. You oughtn't to allow it around here. Don't you see the tracks it has left." —From "Rail Life," by Alfred Price.
